If librarians and libraries hope to achieve further progress, they must work as a united group. A.L.A. dues are insignificantly small when compared with labor union, medical association or bar association dues, yet librarians need as strong an association as the American Medical Association. A physician is disgraced when barred from membership in the American Medical Association, yet some of us have not paid our 1944 A.L.A. dues. If you have been a member, renew your membership now. If you have never joined, don't wait another minute. Send your name, library, position and dues to the American Library Association, 520 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 11, Ill.

SCHOOL OF LIBRARY SCIENCE, THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

The table below shows where the 26 students graduated from the School in 1944 came from and where they have gone. It also shows something of present day library salaries in North Carolina and elsewhere:

Home State of Students: Florida 2, Georgia 2, Maryland 1, Mississippi 2, North Carolina 9, South Carolina 5, Tennessee 1, Virginia 2, Wisconsin 1, District of Columbia 1.

Position Upon Graduation: Army Hospital 2 (N. C. and Va.); Navy Base

1 (Md.); Library of Congress 1; College 3 (One each in La., Md., Tenn.); Public Library 8 (Two in N. C.; one each in Alaska, Mich., N. Y., Oreg., S. C., and Va.); School 6 (Two each in N. C. and Ga.; one each in Miss. and Va.); University 5 (Three in N. C.; one each in Hawaii and Ind.). It will be noted that 9 of the students were from North Carolina and that 8 of them are now in North Carolina libraries.

A comparison of library salaries in North Carolina and elsewhere as shown in the salaries of these 26 recent graduates shows a range for the 26 of from $1231.20 (9 months' position) to $2450.04, with the average salary, $1654.04. The salary of the 8 who are in North Carolina libraries is from $1231.20 (9 months' position) to $1752 (an Army Hospital Library Assistant), with the average salary, $1511.52. It would seem that North Carolina libraries need to increase their salaries if they are to hold North Carolinians or attract librarians from outside the state.

We have completed arrangements with the publishers of the ARCADIA HOUSE publications and can now offer you their current titles at $1.15 each net ($2.00 less 42½% discount).

As you may know, their policy for the past ten years has been that of publishing light romances for public library circulation that are completely suitable for borrowers of all ages.

May we send you their three romances and one western title each month upon publication? You retain the privilege of returning any titles. This service may be discontinued at your discretion.
