

NORTH CAROLINA LIBRARIES

NEXT TIME . . .

. . . the April issue of North Carolina Libraries will be the biennial directory issue. Please notify Miss Marjorie Hood, Woman's College Library, Greensboro, of any changes of address or of names.

. . . for the June issue the editor has on hand several articles which he believes will be of interest to many librarians. "What Is a Library?" by Winston Broadfoot gives us a look at ourselves by one who has recently joined our ranks. Miss Jean Freeman writes on colonial libraries in North Carolina. "Library Fauna" comes from Asheville and is guaranteed to amuse. Other contributions will be received for consideration for this issue until April 15. Late arrivals will be held for possible use in future numbers.
